Battered Women and Their Families: Intervention Strategies and Treatment Programs, Third Edition (Springer Series on Family Violence) By Albert R. Roberts

With a foreword by Barbara W. White, PhD, University of Texas at Austin

The definitive work on battered women is now in a timely third edition.

Considered the complete, in-depth guide to effective interventions for this pervasive social disease, Battered Women and Their Families has been updated to include new case studies, cultural perspectives, and assessment protocols. In an area of counseling that cannot receive enough attention, Dr. Robert's work stands out as an essential treatment tool for all clinical social workers, nurses, physicians, and graduate students who work with battered women on a daily basis.

New chapters on same-sex violence, working with children in shelters, immigrant women affected by domestic violence, and elder mistreatment round out this unbiased, multicultural look at treatment programs for battered women.

Editorial Review

Review

"Dr. Roberts has thoroughly revised and updated the third edition of Battered Women and Their Families, and the result is a comprehensive new work that retains revisions of the best chapters from the second edition while incorporating 12 new chapters. More than 60% of this edition contains new and valuable material....Many challenges, problems, intervention strategies, assessment and treatment methods, and empowerment approaches are documented in this book by one of the most brilliant clinical researchers in North America today--Dr. Albert Roberts--together with the highly experienced chapter author....This is the most practical, evidence-based, inspirational, and well-written book on family violence that I have read in the past 10 years. Every social worker, counselor, nurse, and domestic violence advocate should read this book."

--From the Foreword by Barbara W. White, Dean and Centennial Professor in Leadership, School of Social Work, University of Texas at Austin. Former President, Council on Social Work Education (CSWE), and Former President, National Association of Social Workers (NASW).
